

COYITO DAVILA BIOGRAPHY

Coyito Davila is a self-taught artist who has worked side by side with her husband, award winning sculptor Jess Davila. She has had the opportunity to study other prestigious artists and has experimented with various mediums and has begun to develop and express her own style in acrylic and oil painting.

A woman very much involved in her husband's business, she has also embraced the idea of creating a World Class Art Center and has worked diligently in seeing it take form and become a reality.

She loves the idea of teaching and sharing the beauty of the art world with people because she knows that it's a much better way of giving, and it's long lasting.
